

BRIDGET MUSICK

CONSULTING ASSOCIATE

HUMAN CAPITAL

Bridget creates and enhances client curriculum and participant materials for leadership development and customer services programs in the Human Capital industry. Specializing in instructor-led classroom, virtual or online trainings, Bridget strives to deliver results that clients deserve. She works to develop training workshops for clients and evaluates current training programs, implementing feedback for continual improvement.

Bridget's previous experience includes 13 years of professional facilitation and leadership development training within the classroom and virtual training environment. She trained retail and indirect employees in new hire procedures, sales, coaching skills, products and systems.

Bridget uses her extensive facilitation skills to give her clients the assurance that their customized workshops will be engaging while also providing opportunities for behavioral change so that a client's results can progress.
