

STEPHANIE SANDS

CONSULTING ASSOCIATE HUMAN CAPITAL

Stephanie supports the Human Capital Team in the areas of employee selection and engagement projects, as well as team building and leadership development initiatives. She also conducts research on best practices in the Human Capital field.

Stephanie's previous experience with leadership development, facilitation, selection and performance management make her a helpful and valuable member of the Human Capital Team. She has created and implemented a leadership development program for rural Nebraska leaders using a virtual platform. Stephanie has also been assisting in Industrial/Organizational Psychology research for the past five years.

Stephanie recently completed her master's degree at the University of Nebraska at Omaha in the area of Industrial/Organizational Psychology.
